

Funny Fiction

Adler, Elizabeth

Summer in Tuscany

A string of comic and romantic misadventures is set in motion when Gemma and family fly to Tuscany to check out a villa her mother has inherited only to find an American dreamboat in residence.

Andrews, Mary Kay

Hissy Fit

In high temper, Keely Murdoch calls off her marriage to a cheating fiancé and jumps at the chance for revenge when "bra boy" gives her the opportunity to regain her dignity.

Bartolomeo, Christina

Snowed In

Isolated and freezing in Portland, Maine, Sophie spends most of her time stuck at home while her husband flirts with catastrophe at work, until her shell of caution cracks and she ventures into new territory.

Braff, Joshua

The Unthinkable Thoughts of Jacob Green

It's 1970s New Jersey Jewish dysfunctional relationships as Jacob mentally lets loose on his egomaniacal father and clueless relatives in a steady stream of hypothetical hilarity.

Capella, Anthony

The Food of Love

A bawdy, sensual romp with a dishy waiter and a shy chef in the wings fill Laura's Roman holiday with zabaglione to die for, succulent sex and the promise of true love

De Vries, Hilary

So 5 Minutes Ago

Amidst the glitz and glamour of Hollywood, publicist Alex Davidson dwells in the shadows fighting the fickleness of fame on behalf of her desperately conspicuous clients.

Fellowes, Julian

Snobs

The nameless narrator, a likable fop hanging out on the upper crust fringes, hilariously exposes the dalliances and snobberies of high society in a modern London. Wodehouse for modern readers!

Heller, Jane

Best Enemies

Beautiful Tara has it all, including Amy's fiancé, when their friendship ends. Now they both make up elaborate stories to impress each other, creating hopelessly tangled lies, with surprising results.

Hiaasen, Carl

Skinny Dip

A crooked marine biologist pushes his wife overboard while on a cruise. Surviving by clinging to a bale of hashish, she and the ex-cop who rescues her set out to exact revenge with a creative blackmail scheme.

Hornby, Nick

A Long Way Down

Four desperately depressed people form a support group to prevent themselves from jumping off a London rooftop on New Year's Eve. Their darkly comic combination of candor and complaint provides saving therapy.

Kinsella, Sophie

Shopaholic & Sister

After returning to London from her ten-month honeymoon, Becky discovers she has a half-sister who, to her chagrin, is both unfashionable and frugal. Fourth in the "Shopaholic" series.

Lipman, Elinor

The Pursuit of Alice Thrift

Despite the warnings of her roommate and her mother, a brilliant but socially inept surgeon falls prey to the relentless romancing of Ray Russo, a tacky fudge salesman who has developed a sweet tooth for her.

Margolis, Sue

Apocalipstick

Should beauty columnist Becky risk the dangers of exposing an explosive international scandal to follow her dream of becoming a respected journalist, or follow the path of least resistance and do nothing?

Martinez, Nina Marie

Caramba! A Tale Told in Turns of the Card

Welcome to Lava Landing, California, a tiny town in the shadow of a volcano where everybody's either on the make, on the take or out of their minds, and fate's fickle hand deals the cards of life.

Moore, Christopher

Fluke, or I Know Why the Winged Whale Sings

The author's bizarre trademark humor is in full swing in this love story-cum-adventure about a biologist and his assistant who travel in the belly of a whale with "Bite Me" written on its tale.

Perrotta, Tom

Little Children

Handsome househusband Todd learns that staying home with the kids has its rewards, such as wrecking toy trains and hanging out at the playground with all the moms, where he's known as Prom King.

Proulx, Annie

That Old Ace in the Hole

Bob Dollar is sent to Texas and Oklahoma to scout out land for his employers to set up gigantic pig farms. Bob is charmed by the residents of Woodybucket, Texas and cooks up a scheme to foil his boss' plans.

Tropper, Jonathan

The Book of Joe

Returning to his home town is a dangerous proposition for an author who lampooned most of its inhabitants in his famous novel.

Westlake, Donald

Watch Your Back!

Dortmunder and his bumbling burglars hatch a plan to rob the Manhattan penthouse of Preston Fareweather, but get sidetracked when the mob unrolls its sleeves at the O.J. Bar & Grill.

Wilson, Cintra

Colors Insulting to Nature

Sex, drugs and rock 'n' roll fail to destroy misnamed Liza Normal as she journeys from a madcap Sound of Music production to creating a knockout superhero in this 1980s coming-of-age spoof.

Zweibel, Alan

The Other Shulman

Overweight stationary storeowner Shulman runs the New York AIDS marathon, loses his extra 40 pounds (again), gains a friend and newfound self-discipline and comes face to face with his evil doppelganger.

List courtesy of Seattle Public Library

INDIAN TRAILS PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT

355 S. Schoenbeck Rd

Wheeling, IL 60090

Telephone 847-459-4100 Fax: 847-459-4760

TDD: 847-459-5271

Night Owl Reference Service: 847-459-4102

Web site: <http://www.indiantrailslibrary.org>

