

20 in 2020: Read a book with LGBT+ Themes

Below are recommendations for books with LGBT+ themes. Find one that sounds interesting and check it out!

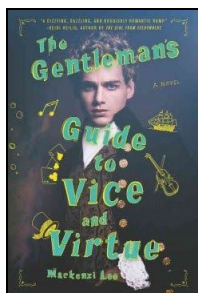

Dreadnought

by Sarah Waters

Genre: High School Fiction

Descriptors: Superheroes; Action; Own voices; Transgender; Thought-provoking; Inspiring

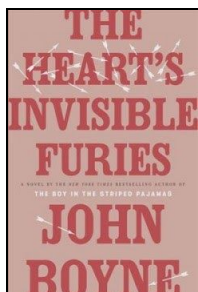

The Gentleman's Guide to Vice and Virtue

by Mackenzi Lee

Genre: High School Fiction

Descriptors: Historical; Engaging; Romantic; Witty; Bisexual; Ability diverse; Culturally diverse

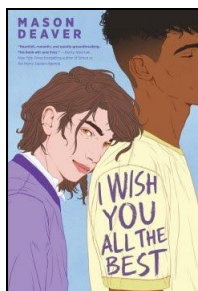

The Heart's Invisible Furies

by John Boyne

Genre: Fiction

Descriptors: Compelling; Amusing; Complex; Gay; Courageous; Character-driven

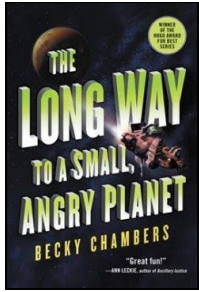

I Wish You All the Best

by Mason Deaver

Genre: High School Fiction

Descriptors: Engaging; Moving; Angst-filled; Nonbinary; Thoughtful; Own voices; Anxiety

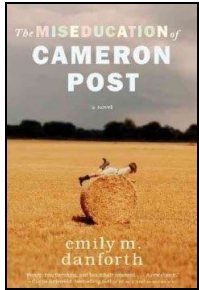

The Long Way to a Small, Angry Planet

by Becky Chambers

Genre: Science Fiction

Descriptors: Heartwarming; Spaceship; Engaging; Space opera; Aliens; Secrets

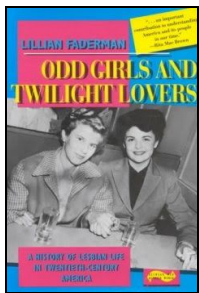

The Miseducation of Cameron Post

by Emily M. Danforth

Genre: High School Fiction

Descriptors: Character-driven; Angst-filled; Lesbian; Conversion therapy; Own voices

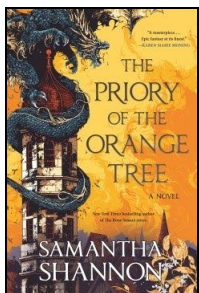

Odd Girls and Twilight Lovers: A History of Lesbian Life in Twentieth-Century America

by Lillian Faderman

Genre: Nonfiction

Descriptors: History; Society; Culture; Lesbian; Identity

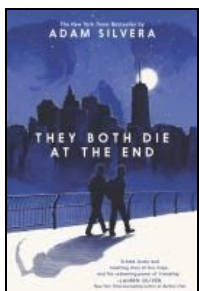

The Priory of the Orange Tree

by Samantha Shannon

Genre: Science Fiction

Descriptors: Dramatic; Compelling; Atmospheric, Culturally diverse; Lush; Complex

They Both Die at the End

by Adam Silvera

Genre: High School Fiction

Descriptors: Reflective; Engaging; Latino; Bisexual; Own voices; Gay; Science fiction

